Freak Storm Hits Peninsula; Causes Severe Damage

In an unseasonable storm, the worst experienced here as early as October in many years, the entire Peninsula was without electricity yesterday afternoon, phone service was disrupted in many sections for hours, trees were blown over and considerable storm damage was reported during the first hours of the near hurricane.

Electricity was disrupted in Monterey, Pacific Grove, Pebble Beach, Carmel Valley, East Monterey and certain residential sections of Carmel about 3 o'clock while the entire business section was blacked out at about 4 o'clock.

The Carmel Police Department, according to Chief Clyde Klauman, was able to contact its prowl cars by radio through the Monterey departments auxiliary radio during the afternoon, but at 5 o'clock telephone service discontinued. Up until that time no accidents were reported locally caused by the storm.

Two cars were damaged by falling trees, one of which was completely demolished. A Packard, owned by Mrs. W. C. Cole which was parked on Lincoln between Second and Third, was smashed flat by a falling pine tree, while another, owned by John Burkholder, parked on Monte Verde was seriously damaged.

Grocery store merchants and restaurant owners said serious loss would be suffered in deep freeze units if the storm continued, and, meanwhile, housewives were facing the same problem. Since a great many homes in this area are equipped with electric stoves, many families had to be content with a cold supper, while others took advantage of the unprecedented storm to roast weinies in fireplaces.

Hardware stores ran out of kerosene lamps and sterno units, usually slow-selling items in this community, while candles were at a premium in other places of business.

Dozens of cars were stalled from lack of gasoline, since the pumps are operated electrically.

Meanwhile, Pacific Gas and Elec-

I met Pon Chung on Dolores street yesterday afternoon.

"You're going to have a lot of windows to wash, Pon, pretty soon. Hallowe'en's coming."

"Not me . . . I go away." He lifted two fingers and grinned. "Two weeks!"

Whatever the tithy between the street department and the police department as to who is to provide a crossing guard for Woods School kids at Second and Carpenter on Friday afternoons, the street department has taken the adult attitude that the crossing should be guarded by somebody until the matter is ironed out, so they will attend to it themselves.

Pappy Waldorf has been fearing the Gaels so strenuously all week, according to the big city papers, that we're beginning to fear them ourselves. In fact, we've been frightened away from Berkeley entirely this week end and are going to Palo Alto.

The doctors are complaining because the new time limit parking regulations requires them either to drop their forceps in the middle of a hassel with a patient's symptoms to run out and move their cars every hour on the hour, or get a traffic ticket. Since some patients might become emotionally disturbed to be deserted in the middle of a minor operation or a major examination, the doctors are allowing the car moving routine to slide. This is in the interest of public good and it seems too bad that the doctors should get tickets for their adherence to the line of duty. And it can mount up. One doctor got five tickets last week. This inevitably will lead to the doctors' conforming with the law, going out to move their cars every hour, which, as the day wears on and congestion increases, means that they'll probably have to move their cars a couple of blocks away from their offices to find a parking slot. And that's just fine for you and me. Suppose I fall over with a heart attack or you have a fit. Our doctor is summoned. He grabs the little black bag and runs two blocks to get his car. Five minutes. There are times when five minutes' delay in giving a shot in the arm reclassifies the patient from a medical to a mortuary case. —Wilma Cook

"Something," Said This One And That, "Ought To Be Done About It." Well, It's Now On Its Way To Being Done

(Edward Kuster, chairman of the Board of Carmel Playhouse, incorporated, returned Tuesday from San Francisco with the news that the State Corporation Commission is preparing an order releasing from escrow the $55,000 derived from subscriptions for the preferred stock of the corporation. This stock is held by 240 dwellers in the Carmel and Pebble Beach area. It is stated that with the placing of an additional $17,000 of shares, the financing of the new Playhouse will be completed, a building contract will be let and construction will begin. The following article, by Talbert Josselyn, well known short story writer, eloquently expresses the viewpoint of a representative "old-timer" toward the rebirth of a community-conducted showhouse for stage and screen. ED.

BY TALBOT JOSSELYN

When our family came to Carmel in 1914 we looked about us and said: "What a wonderful place to live in."

There was the changeless yet ever-changing sea . . . the forest . . . the rounded hills and the high mountains. And there was a thing beyond the beauty of nature. It was the spirit of the place. There were only several hundred inhabitants. Whatever their walks of life, all had a common bond: "This is our village."

Intense individualists, at the same time they had a strong community feeling. So, among other things, they had organized the Arts and Crafts Society and built its hall. And they'd founded the Forest Theater, the first outdoor theater in California.

In the Forest Theater, beginning with Fourth of July week and continuing off and on during the summer months, and in the Hall on occasions during the rest of the year, when the work of the day was done — writing and carpentering and painting and storekeeping . . . gardening and admiring how the world was made — the villagers gathered, some as actors, the rest as audience, and embarked on the magic carpet of the imagination.

That the plays were perfomed by amateurs, that at times they

Saturday Big Auction Day For All Carmel

Once again the Peninsula's citizens band together in a valiant endeavor to preserve their haven. The Surplus Treasure Auction, to to held tomorrow, Saturday, October 28, from 1:30 to 5:30 at the Carmel Girl Scout House on Lincoln street, has involved a large part of the population. The money resulting from the sale of the surplus treasures which have been donated by Peninsula people will be used to swell the fund to purchase the Carmel River Beach, from Carmel Point to the mouth of San Jose Creek.

In charge of collection of the treasures have been Miss Tillie Pollak and Mrs. Malcolm Millard, Mrs. William Harrington, Mrs. Howard Clark and Mrs. J. B. Spellar have assisted in calling for and delivering objects for the auction. Mrs. Nelson Miles Leoni

Picketing On Sewer Given Stop Order

The probability of a legal battle loomed this week between the engineering firm employed by the Carmel Sanitary District and the local union picketing the sewer system work for the Mesa and Hatton Fields districts, following the issuance on Wednesday by Superior Judge H. G. Jorgensen of a temporary restraining order prohibiting the picketing.

The restraining order was requested by Attorney Shelbourne Robison, representing the district, and was granted on the grounds that the "health and safety" of the people was threatened.

Next step in the battle will be a hearing before Superior Judge Anthony Brazil next Monday to seek a temporary injunction while the work on the sewer system is in progress and finally, if this is granted, a permanent injunction against picketing on the grounds of a "government instrumentality" clause to protect the people in those areas.

Whole Town Invited To Turn Out For Kiwanis Club Gala Hallowe'en Party

The whole town is expected to turn out for next Tuesday's gala Hallowe'en party at Sunset School, an event sponsored annually by the Carmel Kiwanis Club.

All youngsters will be in costume and the grand march will begin on the Sunset School athletic field at 7 o'clock. From then until 8:30 there will be contests for costumes, refreshments, free balloons, vaudeville acts with clowns, acrobats, an organ grinder and even a fishing pond for gifts.

The Carmel High School band will lead the grand march and prizes will be awarded for the best costumes, the best couple and best carved pumpkins. Judges will be Mayor Allen Knight, Mrs. Julian von Meier, president of the P.T.A. and the Rev. Alfred Seccombe.

There will be a morning preview of the youngsters in their costumes at Carmel Woods School with children participating from kindergarten through the fourth grade.

Beginning at 8:30 there will be a dance in the gymnasium for grownups who may or may not come in costume or barn dance outfits. Dancing will continue until 11 o'clock and everyone is extended a cordial invitation to attend by the Kiwanis Club.

CARMEL HIGH GRIDDERS PLAY GONZALES TONIGHT

Sixty Carmel High School football players will make a jaunt to Gonzales tonight to engage in their second league game of the '50 season. In keeping with the latest edict of the CCAL board of managers, the limited tussle is scheduled for 6 o'clock, with the varsity fray getting started at 8 sharp. The clash with the Spartans is an extremely important one for the Padre varsity, as it was exactly 18 games ago that Gonzales handed Carmel its last defeat. Winning over the Spartans has never been easy for the Padres, and tonight's tilt is rightly tabbed as an even up affair. On comparative scores against Gilroy, the Gonzales defense seems stronger than the local preps, while Carmel scored one more touchdown against the Gilroy lads. Gonzales whacked Gilroy, 24 to 0, and Carmel got over the Mustangs, 32 to 6. Powering off the double-wing formation, the Spartans present something of a novelty in a predominantly T era. In Lopez, Daoro, and Comacho, Gonzales has three backs who can run with the best in the league. They have a big experienced forward wall which held Gilroy to a net gain of 18 yards. Carmel will try to match the Spartan power with the quick-breaking shots of Updike, Moran, and Overin. These backs showed an aptitude for moving the leather against King City and should give the big Gonzales line a testing. With quarterback Stu Emery at the controls, the Padre offense has shown good balance between running and passing. Hans and Frans Doelman, the red and gray's rangy ends, are rapidly becoming the top pass snaggers in the B division.

In tonight's 6 o'clock preliminary clash, the lightweight squads of both schools will be gunning for their first league win. King City rubbed the Padrecito Babes, 26 to 6, and Hollister gave the Gonzales limited's a 21-6 lesson.

Carmel's probable starting lineup for tonight's game:

| Varsity | | Limiteds |
|---|---|---|
| Frans Doelman | RE | Don Morehead |
| Thor Rasmussen | RT | Jim Thompson |
| Bill Daniels | RG | Bill Chalkley |
| John Monroe | C | Bradley Dixon |
| Syl Burger | LG | Bill White |
| Charles May | LT | Skipper Lloyd |
| Hans Doelman | LE | Ray March |
| Stu Emery | QB | Bob Laugenour |
| Bob Updike | LH | Paul Ricketson |
| Henry Overin (c) | RH | (c) T. Brosnan |
| Jim Moran | FB | Pablo Palick |

RAIN, NO GAME! SUNSET AND RED EIGHTS TRY AGAIN

Jupe Pluvius put the damper on Wednesday's Youth Center touch football league play so the Sunset lads and Nielsen's Red Eights will have at it this afternoon. The word is out to point for Sunset in the second half and force them into a playoff for the league title. The Sunsetters copped the first half championship and are assured of at least a chance to playoff for the flag.

In the final fracas of the first half, Gary Appleton's Grays won their civil war match against Nielsen's Reds, 26 to 0. Appleton's gang has the tools to handle any team in the league and is sure to be heard from in the second half.

Next Wednesday, Sunset tries the Gray Eights, and, on Thursday, Serra tangles with the Red Eights. All games are played on the girl's field at the high school.

LOBOS TIP MENLO TO MOVE ONE GAME CLOSER TO TITLE

Playing like champions all the way, the Monterey Peninsula College Lobos jolted the Menlo Oaks, 19 to 6, last Saturday night at the Monterey stadium. In defeating the good Menlo club, Tidwell's title-contenders definitely established themselves as favorites to come out on top of the heap. Showing a diversified attack, featuring aerial shots to Narvaez, Rawson, and Handley, the Lobos gave visiting scouts a headache in plotting defenses to stop their offense.

Tonight, Monterey journeys out of town to engage the Taft Junior College in a non-league tilt. Taft dropped a 33-7 game to Hartnell early in the season and shouldn't extend the potent Lobos too much.

PADRES UPSET KING CITY; MORAN SPARKS OFFENSE

A come-through performance by Carmel fullback, Jim Moran, proved a startling surprise to the King City defense Saturday afternoon and the Carmel lads romped home to their first league victory. The speedy Jim toured the Mustang flanks and socked through the middle for sizable chunks of yardage whenever his number came up. Led by Captain Syl Burger, the red and gray line turned in its best performance of the current season to open gaping holes in the sturdy Mustang forward wall, and the downfield blocking of Monroe and Daniels helped the Padre backs once they were beyond the line of scrimmage. Deep gloom hovered over the Carmel rooting section on the opening kickoff when a Padre fumble was recovered by King City on the red and gray 15-yard stripe. However, Burger & Company dug in to hold the Mustangs for downs and took possession of the hide on their 11-yard line. On the first offensive play, Moran swept around King City's left flank for a 25-yard gainer and the Padres were on their way to a TD. Quick off-tackle slants by Updike and Overin moved the ball into King City territory and a sharp pass from Emery to Frans Doelman set the Padres in position to score on Updike's 12-yard tour off tackle. Carmel hit pay dirt again in the first quarter when Henry flipped a lateral to Updike for a 15-yard gainer. Jim Moran scampered 12 yards for Carmel's second quarter tally. The accurate toe of Overin made good on the three conversions and the Padres were on the long end of a 21-0 halftime score. Howard Veit recovered a Mustang fumble in the third quarter and Carmel took advantage of the break to register TD number four, Updike sliding through left tackle for the last two yards. Overin's conversion attempt was blocked and Carmel's scoring ended for the afternoon. King City put on a scoring drive late in the fourth, three minutes before the game ended.

Carmel's little Padrecitos had a rough afternoon against the visiting Ponies and wound up on the short end of a 26-6 count. Sad things were presaged on the opening kickoff when King City scooped up a Padre Babe fumble and went the distance for six points. Rocked back on their heels by the shaky beginning, the little Padres saw three touchdowns registered against them before they could muster a march to score.

HI CHAPTER

By Edwina Brown

A French Club dinner was given at the home of the president of the French Club, Linda Bain, Tuesday night, October 17. The affair was a pot-luck style meal with the food contributed by those who attended.

Those who were present were: Mrs. Elise Beaton, sponsor of the French Club; Karen von Meier, Lynn Carrere, Pat Merivale, Frans Doelman, Sally Holt, Ted Brand, Diana Horne, Barbara McCrea, Sherrie Henderson, Sue Stoney, Collette Ferguson, Tori Phillips, Roland Hathaway, Linda Bain, Barbara Berg, Paula Schneeberger, Lilian Lee, and Gay Masten.

The second in a series of winter programs by the Carmel High School chorus was broadcast over station KSBW on October 19, at 1:45 p.m. Opening the program with their theme, Dear Land of Home, the chorus sang a swabian folk song entitled Farewell to Summer, and an American folk song, Cindy. For their "old favorite" they used My Old Kentucky Home by Stephen Foster.

Jim Moran, baritone guest soloist for this program, chose Harvest Moon and That Old Black Magic, as his selections for the program. Leslie Doolittle was his accompanist, while Ken Wightman again took care of the announcing and Al Greene wrote the script.

A rally was given in the gym Friday afternoon, October 20, for the purpose of promoting spirit for the King City game. The members of the Rally Club presented a skit entitled The Big Game, an example of "how to play football!" The girls took the parts of the teams, the coach, the referee, and the waterboy, while the two male members of the club, Bob Campbell and Kurt von Meier, acted as spectators. Coaches George Moslof, Chuck Dawson, and Relfe Leavitt obligingly took the parts of the cheerleaders to complete the cast. All were received with spontaneous applause.

Those girls who participated in the rally were: Carole Byers, Carlene Daniels, Susan Nutter, Joan Kempen, Pat Sturdy, Carol Timbers, Donna Douglas, Suzanne Smith, Nancy Nutter, Sue McCloud, Carole Ann Smith, Carol Templeman, Judy Kohn, Ruth Harrington, Audrey Campbell, Sydney Tice, Ann Spurr, Barbie Berg, and Edwina Brown.

The first officers of the newly built Carmel Youth Center were elected at a meeting Monday night, October 22. They are as follows: Bob Updike, president; Bill Daniels, vice president; Dianne Lewis, secretary; Donna Douglas, treasurer, and Audrey Campbell, historian.

Quarter finals started today, Friday, October 27, and will continue on through the coming week.

LIONS HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Final details for the Lions Hallowe'en Party next Monday are in order. The decorating committee is busy, and the entertainment committe has all kinds of games and prizes lined up for the dinner, which will begin at 7:00 p. m. at the Mission Ranch.

Last Tuesday's meeting was attended by Carmel's new Chief of Police, Clyde Klaumann, and Mayor Allen Knight, who entertained the group with selections on the piano accompanied by Lew Kramer on the saxophone.

Gene Cohig, Carmel Theatre manager played the piano for the singing of the club after a lengthly business meeting at which the members and guests enjoyed a vension dinner furnished by Lion Robert "Waldo" Hicks, being deliciously cooked by Mrs. Hicks.

BALLOT MEASURES ANALYZED

Analysis of the measures on the November 7 ballot will be given tonight at a public meeting of the League of Women Voters at the high school cafeteria, beginning at 8:00 o'clock. Mrs. Llewellyn MacMahon, lawyer of San Francisco and member of the state board of the League, will discuss the measures. She has spoken before the local organization on previous occasions, and is eminently fitted by her legal training and experience to explain the propositions and answer questions of the voters. All citizens are invited to attend. Mrs. H. Paul Riebe, president of the voters organization, will conduct the meeting.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

You Can't Build A Better Mousetrap!

"They're not the best-looking boarders a man ever had," Hack Garner said one day, "and they've got awful tempers. But I've found it pays to have 'em around."

Hack was talking about a family of barn owls, nesting in his silo this year. Some folks believe those little white-faced screechers kill chickens—and ought to be shot on sight. But Hack disagrees.

"Up at State University they've studied barn owls for years—and never known one to eat a chicken. On the other hand, a daddy owl will clean up around 300 mice a month. Farmers that kill barn owls are throwing away the best mousetraps known to man!"

From where I sit, when someone shows a prejudice against any group of animals or humans—it's usually just based on misunderstanding. For instance, some folks are plumb intolerant about those of us who enjoy an occasional quiet glass of beer. Get to really know us and you're liable to find we're pretty good birds at that!

"Something Ought To Be Done . . ." Well, Now It Will Be

were not too well done, is beside the point. The thing that mattered was that here were people finding new horizons in the joyous adventure of living.

In the early 1920's the Arts and Crafts Theater came into being, followed a few months later by the Theatre of the Golden Bough, the finest intimate theater in America.

For the next ten years life, in those theaters, was at its high tide . . . plays by local actors . . . plays by outside companies of merit . . . concerts, recitals, motion pictures. There was a happy awareness of what these theaters meant to the village; there was a teaming up of old-timers and newcomers . . . old-timers had once been newcomers themselves, and it wasn't how long you'd been here, but the way in which you became a part of the community, that counted.

To be one of those in the theater on the night of a play gave rich reward, no matter which side of the curtain you were on — if on stage, you had sweated through rehearsals, had sworn you'd never be in another so-and-so play, had watched the approach of opening night with commingled pleasure and dread . . . and if you were in the audience, you'd eaten an early supper and set out on foot, for in that simple time cars were few and people hadn't lost the power of self-locomotion; and as you found your seat you told yourself you expected at least two things, that the play begin on time and the cast know its lines — and then . . . then the house light were off, the footlights were on, the tall curtains came rippling apart. There was a moment's hush . . . a crackling round of applause for stage-set and players . . . a settling hush . . . then the first lines were coming over the footlights, clear, crisp, assured . . . and actors and audience were off on their companion journey: "Here we go!"

Then, in the course of a night, the Theatre of the Golden Bough ceased to be. And a village era had come to an end.

In a changing world, what that era had meant was less and less appreciated. Mechanized entertainment — the wired and the waxed —more and more took over. The village vanished into a town that now threatens to become a city.

Through these years life in the Arts and Crafts Theater dimmed and flowed and dimmed. Several times the place changed ownership, and it finally became the Golden Bough Playhouse. It had begun to quicken once more, when fire destroyed it as it had destroyed the original Bough. To the old-timers, gazing at the ashes of the Playhouse and adjoining Hall, forty years of the community's joyous life lay there. To the newer-arrived, the loss became a thing of moment when they found themselves trying to enjoy an evening in a school auditorium with acoustics like a railroad station.

Something, said this one and that, ought to be done about it. Well, it's now on its way to being done, and the theaters of the Golden Bough and the Arts and Crafts will have their rebirth in a building on the site where both had stood. Out of the ashes will rise a place where the community can gather and once more embark on the magic carpet of the imagination, and regain, in a measure, the happy heritage that was once ours.

has been in charge of collections in the Valley. Assisting with collections throughout the Peninsula have been Mrs. Wesley B. Heard, Mrs. Louisa Jenkins, Mrs. Sidney Trevvett, Mrs. Howard Quinan, Mrs. Fred Farr, Mrs. Charles Fuller, Mrs. Paul Whitman and Mrs. John Boit Morse. Mrs. Edward McMurtry and Mrs. George Luker have been responsible for mailing requests, invitations and information, and Mrs. Margaret Hensel and Mrs. Richard Lofton have been in charge of publicity.

Among the fascinating items to be auctioned tomorrow under the skilled management of William R. LaPorte are necklaces of jade, amber and topaz; a modern necklace of gold and jade; an autographed copy of one of Robinson Jeffers' books; two Mandarin coats donated by Mrs. Malcolm Millard and Mr. Harry Dickinson; a chair from Governor Winthrop's attic, donated by David Eldridge; a Japanese tapestry donated by Miss Jean Kellogg; and a large assortment of fine silver, both hollowware and flatware; fine old Waterford glass and rich textiles.

Purchasers of the treasures at the auction will not only spend an entertaining and exciting afternoon, find themselves in possession of rare and beautiful objects, but also aid the purchase fund for the beach materially, since every dollar raised at the auction will be matched by county and state funds set aside for the acquisition of beach front property.

Freak Storm Causes Severe Damage Here

tric and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company emergency crews were working against darkness in an effort to restore service to the effected areas as soon as possible. According to procedure, hospitals are first to be serviced when power is restored, with business sections second.

Many places of business in Carmel, including The Pine Cone "back shop," were flooded. Street department employes were busy cleaning drains and culverts and responding to reports of falling trees along with police.

The new Carmel Valley road, completed a month ago, was almost impassable in certain sections from falling rocks and boulders and cars were forced to creep along at a snail's pace. Electric service was restored there at 5:30.

Last Lecture In Series Wednesday

The last in her fall series of lectures will be given next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Sunset Auditorium by Patricia Cunningham on historical and temporary trends in the art of painting.

In last Wednesday's lecture, Mrs. Cunningham illustrated her talk by painting in oils on large sheets of paper to show the psychic and physical adjustments of man to his environment from the time of the cave dwellers.

Next Wednesday's lecture, Great Schools of Painting, she will discuss the greatest flowering of each period, its decadence and legacy to the future as seen in the works of our great living painters.

Last week Mrs. Cunningham lectured at the Los Angeles Museum.

Power, Intensity, Vigor Epitomize Talley Beatty Tropicana Revue

By Nancy Lofton

The sober vaults of Sunset Auditorium beat to a new and frenzied rhythm on Thursday evening, October 19, when the Carmel Music Society opened its 1950-51 season with the presentation of Talley Beatty's Tropicana Revue. The total impact of the evening was terrific. The dancers moved with great power and intensity and vigor. The themes chosen for development were presented with conviction and imagination, and the accompanying music, piano, human voice and drums was hypnotic and fascinating.

There were times during the evening when it was difficult to determine whether one was watching nature or art, primitive source material or a digested organized art form. It was possible to see at the same time on the stage a curious combination of primitive wriggling frenzy, gestures and postures characteristic of Martha Graham and a few turns and pirouettes straight from classic Russian ballet, but the final flavor of the mixture was rich and exotic and exciting.

The opening street scene was danced and sung with humor and color. An atmosphere of tropic heat and languor, chattering voices and pattering feet filled the auditorium. The witch doctor's dance which followed was as compelling a performance as I have ever seen on the stage. It was enchantment made visible and probably the most skillful dance of the evening. It is not easy to send emotions of such primitive intensity across the footlights but Talley Beatty accomplished it.

The dance drama, The Passionate Powder St. Clair, showed the keenness of self-observation, the satirical mocking humor and again the intensity of the Negro mind. It lacked somehow the integrity of the more primitive dances. In the final dance, a Sun Ritual, the company again returned to spell-binding, creating a time and place in which magic was as tangible as the sound of raucus parrot and screaming monkey which accompanied the dancers.

The dance company exhibited extraordinary endowments of skill and vigor without either of which it would have been impossible to create dances of such violence and imagination. At its best the company was exciting and evocative. At its worst it had a pell-mell, somewhat unorganized character, but the total impact made the evening one of the most original and stirring seen in Carmel in a long time.

Three Thursdays Left Of P. T. A. "Problems" Series

The three following Thursday nights will bring to a conclusion the fall lecture series of the Carmel Adult School in which has been presented, in cooperation with the Carmel Parent-Teachers Association, a series of films and discussions on the problems of adolescence, led by Dr. Friedi Heisler.

Thursday night, November 2, at 8 o'clock, the second part of a film entitled Learning to Understand Children will be shown in Sunset Cafeteria. Last Thursday night the first half of the film was shown to a large audience. The film deals with the case history of a 15-year-old girl emotionally disturbed and indicates ways in which her teachers at school assisted in the diagnosis and treatment of her malady. The film was produced by the McGraw Hill Publishing Company and presents interesting techniques of observation.

Thursday, November 9, Lee Crowe's drama class will present at 8 in Sunset Cafeteria a one-act play called High Pressure which deals with one aspect of adolescence. The class includes several of the Peninsula's finest actors—Lee Crowe, David Eldridge, Lee McKenney and Ruth Marion McElroy.

The final evening, Thursday, November 16, will be devoted to a summary of the series and a discussion period.

Tularcitos Kids Go To Work In New School House

A little over one hundred upper-class grammar school students brought home books from the Tularcitos School last Monday for the first time. The official opening is this week.

The beautiful new school, painted in pastel shades, has four class rooms, a nurses's room, and the main offices. Third, fourth and fifth graders meet in one room, sixth, seventh and eighth graders in another, and kindergarteners will have a room of their own. First and second grade students will meet together in another big room. Two rooms, partioned by a folding screen, become a good sized auditorium when the screen is pulled away.

Situated in the Airway Track, the school accommodates over 150 students. Kindergarten, first and second grades will open Thursday.

Don't Be Fooled!

Proposition No. 6 is no "pension measure"!

It makes no change in pension eligibility requirements.

By licensing every known form of commercial gambling, and taking a cut from the profits, Proposition No. 6—according to its promoters—would provide a new fund for payment of present pension benefits now being met by general taxation.

But before one cent would be paid for pensions, all expenses of a newly created, self-chosen 5-Man Gambling Commission would have to be paid in full!

Under Proposition No. 6, gambling spots would be exempted from local taxes—yet local communities would be burdened by the huge cost of increased police protection against the horde of racketeers, gangsters and hoodlums that Proposition No. 6 would attract to California.

There's news at HARRIET DUNCAN'S this week in jersey separates. Chic, tailored blouses which button down the front come in two styles: one with a bobby collar at $11.95, the other with a soft, turned-down collar and three-quarter sleeves for $9.95. The skirts are ageless, have an over-pleat and semi-full front, and can either be chosen to match the blouse or in a contrasting color. Beautifully styled for any figure, they're $14.95. These Wyner Jersey Coordinates are the finest jersey made, and they never sag. Colors are sophisticated: tangarine, hunter's green, gray, beige, black and sun gold. Mix or match them; the blouse can be worn with anything, and yet you also have a two-piece dress.

Every hostess will be delighted with the possibilities of the Cambridge Arm, a new and dazzling solution in crystal to the hors-d'oevres and table-decoration problem. Found at HOLMAN'S it consists of an arm with four candle-holders ($2.75) which can be placed in a huge bowl ($4.50) or you can have lots of them all over your table; napettes for hors-d'oevres (1.10 each), and tall, slender epernettes for flowers ($1.40 for large, $1.10 for small). The bowl can also be used as a cheese-dish. The beauty of it is that each piece can be had separately; you can assemble or arrange it as creatively as you please without fear of duplication.

Other discoveries at HOLMAN'S: martini glasses at 39c; bon bon and divided relish dishes, sugars and creamers for $1.25; and the marvelous green Inspiration glassware—for sherbet, wine, cocktails, water—at only 25c. By the way, don't miss the Modern Carafe, for keeping your coffee hot.

They've employed more help at OLIVER'S in Monterey, so now you can get your prints framed faster. OLIVER'S ART STORE, which has been in the picture-framing business since 1896, makes all its frames to order; and Myron Oliver will help you select special designs and color schemes to fit your print or picture.

At DI MAGGIO'S MARKET, 350 Scott street in Monterey, they have the delicious home style raviolis. Only 59 cents a box, each box contains four dozen raviolis. DI MAGGIO'S also features strictly fresh poultry and meats, and this week they have colored fryers at 49 cents a pound.

Carmel Represented In New Issue Of Living Wilderness

Carmel is well represented in the recent issue of Living Wilderness, a quarterly magazine published in Washington, D. C., and devoted to the conservation of the nation's natural beauties.

One article deals with the efforts of the Point Lobos League to raise money for the acquisition of Carmel River mouth beaches for a state park site. A sum of $25,000 is being rasied by public subscription and benefits to be added to county funds and matched by state funds. The article was written by Margaret Millard, secretary of the League, and illustrated with photos by Francis Whitaker.

The cover is a photograph of amazing beauty by Edward Weston called South Shore, 1938, which is one of 30 included in a new portfolio book called My Camera on Point Lobos. The volume is published by Virginia Adams, Yosemite National Park, and Houghton, Mifflin Company.

Ansel Adams writes "a note on the photographs" and says, in part: "The work and the working methods of Edward Weston both serve as invaluable examples to all photographers. Apart from the profound expressive qualities of his photographs—and their revelation of a remarkable philisophy of life—they proclaim a technique of great power and unique simplicity. Here are no frills and mannered completities, no distortions of the medium in its straightforward form."

M. Ammerman

Mrs. Margaret Ammerman, 66, a resident of Carmel since 1929, died Monday night at a local hospital following a lengthy illness. She was born in Danville, Pennsylvania and was the widow of the late William Ammerman, who died here three years ago.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Sloan and Mrs. Mary Selbickey, and a son, Fred Ammerman, all of Carmel; a brother, William Weigold and four sisters, Mrs. Clara George, Mrs. Louise Ford, Miss Katherine Weigold and Mrs. Elizabeth Horam all of Pennsylvania; four grandchildren, Sandra Ammerman, Mark and Margot Sloan of Carmel and John Weigold, of the U. S. Marine Corps.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the T. A. Dorney Chapel with the Rev. Carl Steffen officiating. Interment was in the Monterey cemetery.

Cheyenne Dancers In Folk Dance Program Monday

Swing 'em High — Swing 'em Low,
Allemande-left and Away We go!

Swing and Sway the Cheyenne Way! Here they come from Colorado Springs, Colorado. The Cheyenne Mountain Dancers, whose gay and colorful instructor and leader is Dr. Lloyd Shaw, Superintendent of the Cheyenne Mountain School. They will give a big program at the Sunset Auditorium in Carmel, Monday evening, October 30.

Lloyd Shaw, "Pappy Shaw" as all of his students call him, has been the Superintendent of the Cheyenne Mountain School for over 30 years. Many of these students enter his school when they are in the first grade and under Pappy's direction dance on through high school.

This very unusual school owns a fine, big bus with "Cheyenne Mountain Dancers" printed on the outside and that bus will be here in Carmel on Monday. That bus has taken "Pappy" Shaw and Mrs. Shaw; Harriet Johnson, the piano player, and 18 charming Cheyenne Mountain Dancers all over the country. They have danced at the University of California and the University of New York, and many universities in-between, as well as in big cities and small towns. In fact, any place where the people express a desire to see beautiful and expert dancing.

Lloyd Shaw is a kind of missionary, too, taking his dancers to remote rural communities so the folks there can see what fun they themselves will have by learning to do folk and square dances.

Dr. Shaw has written books on dancing and traveled far and wide in his research for the old square and folk dances that were done in our country years and years ago. Pappy even thinks that dancing will save Democracy! If all the world would dance we would not need armies! High Ho! It sure is fun!

This program, sponsored by the Adult School and the Carmel Folk Dancers, consists of: Early American Dances: Waltz entrance, the Lancers, the Polka, the Mazurka, the Varsouvianna, the Barcarole and Swinging Quadrilles. Mexican dances: Jesusita, a Mexican quadrille, El Chote, Mexican Varsouvianna, Matlanchines. Cowboy Dances: A Cowboy Dance, the Cowboy Schottische, the Circle Dance, the Kentucky Running Set, Progressive Waltz, Cattle Call, Pop Goes the Weasel, Modern Rounds and Cowboy Medley.

A. Strasburger

The Carmel friends of Arthur Strasburger, resident here for many years, will be saddened to learn of his death in Los Angeles Wednesday morning. He had been in failing health for some time.

A native of Brooklyn, he was born in 1880 and came to Carmel first in 1933. He was one of the founders of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Downtown Shopping News and for many years was merchandise manager for the Broadway Department Store. He lived here until 1947 when he again returned to the south.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret, two daughters, Lynne and Janet, all of Los Angeles; a son, Arthur Strasburger, Jr., and a grandson, Richard Arthur, both of Carmel.

Funeral services will be in Los Angeles.

GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

Mrs. Constance Riggin's First Grade.

PETS

I have a fluffy little pup. He jumps up and licks my face.
—Midge Elliott.

We used to have two cats and a dog. I liked one of the cats best because he had spots on his chest.
—Donna Durein.

I have a setter. He smiles at me when I come home because he loves me. —David Barnes.

My fox terrier can climb some trees, not all. She protects me.
—Bob Tolleson.

My dog jumps over me and back over me and pushes me down!
—Jon Raggett.

I have a cat and dog. My cat has many kittens, but now they are all dead. —Sharon Slone.

One day my daddy went up the driveway and found a little bird. He brought it in and it perched on my mommy's stove.
—Eric Sorensen.

Six days ago I found a little bird in my patio. He was flying and didn't watch where he was going. He bumped into the window. He was under the chair, so I fed him. We thought he had a broken leg. —Alicia Lukes.

Mrs. Lockwood's 3rd Grade.

CHRISTINE MONTGOMERY

Christine has braids. She plays nicely. She has a brother in the first grade. —Dayonne Beisel.

STEPHEN GRAY

Stephen is a big boy. He is nice to play with. We all like him.
—Eddie Cupit.

Miss Harrie Norman's 5th Grade.

This summer, most of the time, I stayed at home but the other part of the summer I went to Omaha. I had lots of fun. I went swimming at the Country Club and rode Mitten. Mitten is a pinto. —Heather Hamilton.

When we went to the fair we had lots of fun. We had cotton candy. We saw Mr. Calley make pottery. Then we went down to the east end of the grounds.

We found a ping-pong ball stand where you threw ping-pong balls into fish bowls. If you got one in the fishbowl you got the fishbowl and the fish in it. I got a fish. We took him home and we call him Nibbles.—Richard Tetley.

My grandfather, J. J. McCaman, went to Africa to hunt. On his way there he stopped in Italy, Egypt and New York, and many other places. In Africa, when he was hunting, he and Charles Bentley shot two wildbeasts. My grandfather shot an elephant with world-record tusks. They shot wart-hogs and buffaloes. On their way home they stopped to see the Sphinx and the pyramids, and towns of Africa. When he got home our family was very excited. He said he won a lot of trophies.
—Suzann Pilot.

OUR PIGEON

My brother, John, found a baby pigeon at the Mission. He is a playful pet and a nice thing to have. In the morning we put him outdoors to fly and have fun. When he is in the house he flies up to my bed. Then he flies around the house and on my mother's bed. When he does that we put him outside. He flies to the gate and back to the house.

One day we found out that he was at the police station. The policeman had found him. John, the pigeon and I went to sleep together that night
—George Brandhorst.

OUR PLAY

We had a little play in our class meeting. There were seven children in it. Virginia Elliott was Hilda, the maid, Jana Miles was the mother and Kay McFail, Susan Trevvett and I were the triplets. The play was named The Magic Mice. There were two boys in it. They were Philip Durbrow and Jimmy McMullin. In the last scene the mice turn into two princes. Kay McFail planned the play. —Judy Keith.

On Oct. 13 our class had a meeting. Our officers this month are: Laurel Martin, president; Judy Keith, vice president; Suzann Pilot, secretary; Mike Elsen, treasurer.

Suzann read the minutes and Diane Paddleford lead the flag salute. Then the officers made their reports. Kay, the program chairman, gave a play about The Magic Mice. —Susan Trevvett.

THE LITTLE BIRD

One morning I woke up and heard a banging noise. I could tell it was from the rumpus room. I immediately ran out and what did I see — a baby robin redbreast. I was trying to catch it to put it outside when my cat, Alex, came in and started playing with it. I knew he wouldn't kill it because once when he saw a quail he just sat there and watched it. Then I put Alex inside because he attracted the bird's attention to-

Liquid Gold

It means a better living for you ... for all California

Here's Herman Dickman, head of the Agricultural Department of Lodi Union High School. His job is to turn out tomorrow's successful ranchers and growers. A substantial portion of the funds that support San Joaquin County Schools comes from P.G. and E. taxes. And, P.G. and E., by the way, is California's largest property taxpayer.

Irrigation water is California's liquid gold. Pumped onto farm land in P.G. and E. territory it increases average annual per-acre crop values twenty times!

This water, electrically pumped, helps grow 231 different crops; it has done much to make agriculture the basic industry of the state, with a gross annual farm income of 2 billion dollars. This huge sum flows into the channels of trade, creating jobs and prosperity in the cities as well as on the farms.

Yet, P.G. and E. electric power for irrigation pumping on the farm is so low in cost that, on the average, it constitutes only 3.5% of the farmers' crop production expense. And the rates the average farmer pays—just as the rates you pay—are among the lowest in the nation.

Le Roy W. Snyder is a Pump Test Engineer in our Stockton Division. His job is to see that customers' pumping plants deliver the maximum amount of water at the minimum cost. P. G. and E. maintains 9 pump testing crews, saves many thousands of dollars for its customers, makes no charge for the 7000 tests it runs annually.

Meet Kenneth Peake, dairyman, whose Claravale Guernsey Farm near Los Gatos is famous for its rich dairy products. Low-cost electric power has been a big factor in helping Mr. Peake toward success, as it has thousands of other dairymen, farmers and ranchers. Peake uses almost a dozen electric helpers; even his fence is electric. Yet his average monthly electric bill is only $24. "I don't see how anyone could beat the rates," he says.

Paul Bertoli of Santa Rosa, like thousands of other California truck gardeners, cannot afford to wait for the rains; depends, instead, upon ample low-cost electric power to operate 3 deep-well pumps to flood his acres. So electric power shall continue ample on farm and in city alike, plentiful reserves have already been provided by P.G. and E.'s $800,000,000. postwar expansion program, with still more facilities being built.

OUR CLASS MEETINGS

On Sept. 22, we had our class meeting. Jimmy Oliver is our president, Philip Durbrow our vice-president, Diane Paddleford our secretary and John Gray is our treasurer. We talk about our room. Suzann Pilot brought Alice in Wonderland records for our program. —Jimmy McMullin.

I have a kitten. Her name is Tiger. She wanders all over town. She is very cute. After I feed her in the morning she goes to sleep on my bed. Sometimes she gives me fleas. —Michael Elsen.

Last year I was walking down the road when I saw a car stop at the end of our driveway, a man opened the door of the car and pushed out a little puppy. I didn't think anything of it until one morning when I heard a little barking noise. Then I remembered the puppy. My brother and I went down the driveway and there we found the puppy. He was very thin so we took him home and fed him. He didn't go away so we kept him. At first I named him Sonny but after about a month I changed his name to Bo Bo. He and I have lots of fun together. —Mike Coleman.

Carmel Men Receive Honors From Buick

Frederick Stanley, associated with the Peninsula Automobile Company, Buick dealers, returned to Carmel Monday after attending an eight-weeks' session in dealership conducted by General Motors at Flint, Michigan. Stanley was one of 35 men from 20 states selected to attend the course, which took up all phases of dealership enterprise.

Cliff L. Jones was also honored when he was invited to Detroit to attend another dealer conference, which was presided over by Charles Wilson, head of General Motors.

Stanley is a graduate of Carmel Sunset School and has been with the Buick agency for the past 14 months. Stanley is also the proud father of a 6 pound, 10 ounce son, born at 4 o'clock yesterday morning at the Monterey Hospital. He has been named Frederick, II.

Harriet Vannatta Arrives

Harriet Vannatta, who will become the bride of Mr. William Monroe, arrived in Carmel with her mother, Mrs. Charles Vannatta, from Kohala, Hawaii, last week, to make preparations for the wedding, on November 11. The wedding will take place at the All Saints' Church at 8:00 in the evening. A reception will follow the ceremony at the home of William's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Monroe, in Hatton Fields.

Miss Vannatta has chosen Miss Calista Farrell, of Medford Oregon, to serve as her maid of honor. Her bridesmaids will be Mrs. Charles Vannatta, Jr., Miss Cynthia Griffin, of Piedmont, and Miss Carolyn Fraser of Kohala, Hawaii.

William has chosen Richard Perkins, of Beverly Hills, to be his best man. Richard was in the Marine Corps with the groom-to-be, and later they attended the University of Oregon together.

For his brother's wedding, John Monroe will be an usher, as will the bride-elect's brother, John Vannatta, and Robert Barrett, of Bary Mountain, Oregon. Miss Vannatta and her mother divide their time between Carmel and San Francisco, and are expecting relatives from the Islands, and the attendants in a week or so. William and Harriet both graduated from the University of Oregon last June.

Frank Creede Marries

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Creede, Jr. (the former Mary Lang), were married last Friday at a 7 o'clock ceremony in St. Vincent de Paul Church in San Francisco.

The young couple exchanged vows before an altar banked with white gladioli and chrysanthemums. Mary's gown was of ivory satin with an insert at the neckline of point de venise lace, with a drop waistline insert of venise lace. Her veil was illusion montilla, edged in matching point de venise lace. White orchids and philaenopsis formed the bride's bouquet.

Honor attendant for Mary was Mrs. Kenneth Patchett, who wore a dress of deep green tissue faille. Her flowers were yellow roses. Bridesmaids Dorothy Sohler and Joan Feeney, classmates of Mary's at the University of California, wore similar frocks in a lighter shade. Their bouquets were American Beauty roses.

Hugh C. Keenan, Jr., a Stanford classmate of Frank's, waited at the altar as best man. Guests were shown to their places by Mary's brother, Robert Lang, James Triggas, Peter Allan Smith and George Bernard. Several hundred friends and close members of the family toasted the young couple at a reception immediately following the ceremony of the Century Club.

Mary is the daughter of Hiram Arthur Lang of Oakland, and the late Hazel Lang. She is a graduate of the University of California. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Creede of San Francisco and Carmel. By his marriage, Frank has relinquished his membership in the Bachelors of San Francisco. A graduate of Stanford, he recently completed his law studies at the University of San Francisco. Frank plans to practice law in San Francisco.

The newlyweds have motored south for a few days, and Wednesday they will sail from San Francisco for a Hawaiian honeymoon.

Boy For Thompsons

William Mills Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Thompson, was an October 16 arrival at the Peninsula Hospital. He has a brother, Larry, and a sister, Nancy.

The Thompsons have lived in Carmel for two years. Before coming here they lived in Palo Alto, where Mr. Thompson studied law at Stanford. He is now practicing with a relative, Attorney John Thompson, in Monterey.

With Pillsburys

Down from San Francisco today to spend the week end with Mr. and Mrs. C. Taylor Pillsbury are Mr. and Mrs. Howland Meyer (Georgianna de Ropp). A dinner party has been planned by the Pillsburys for their guests, to be given Saturday night.

Aboard For New York

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Barretto left their Carmel home Tuesday to spend six weeks in New York and Massachusetts. They are traveling by train, and intend to stop here and there to visit friends in the East.

Kusters Guests

Leaving Carmel Wednesday after a two-week visit with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kuster were Mrs. Gertrude Treadway of Hollywood, and Mrs. Jessie Door of Alameda. They left for San Francisco, where they will both visit with friends, before they return to their homes.

Douglas School Election

Elected this week to serve the Douglas School Student Body as president was Ann Richards, of Altadena. Her secretary-treasurer is Karen Anderson of Berkeley, and Patsy Fields of Los Angeles, will be program chairman for assemblies this year. House president is Ariel Guiberson of Davis.

Home From Honeymoon

Home from a three months' honeymoon trip are Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Wakefield (Jacklyn Six). The trip to Mexico took them to Ensenada, Mazatlan, and Monterey.

Cricketers Enjoy Party

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Merivale entertained members of the Del Monte Cricket Team last Saturday evening with a supper-dance at their home in Hatton Fields.

Team members and wives present for the affair were Mr. Duncan Murray, Mr. Fred Pomeroy, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sothwell, Mr. Jim Southwell, III, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Twohig, Mr. Mike Barfoed, Mr. and Mrs. George Calvert, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clothier, Mr. George C. Dear, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Faulkes, Mr. and Mrs. John Granfield and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Hill.

Party For Mark Hildebrand

Mark Hildebrand entertained a group of his friends last Friday afternoon in honor of his thirteenth birthday. Upon arrival at the Hilebrand Studio, the boys found a six-foot skeleton hanging on the wall, surrounded by rubber spiders and creeping green lizards. The table setting was a masterpiece of the macabre in true Hallowe'en style. Cookies in the forms of ghosts, pumpkins and witches lay on the table near place cards, shaped like tombstones. Two skeletons hanging down out of the chimney watched the festivities.

Guests were John Thompson, Dick Holt, Roger Newell, Dick Leutzinger, Dick Ogden, Charles Solomon, Brayton Witherell, Grimm Mason, Mervin Sutton, and Jimmy Konrad.

Youth Center Officers

At an election this week, the following members of the Carmel Youth Center were voted into office: Bob Updike, president; Bill Daniels, vice-president; Diane Lewis, secretary; Donna Douglas, treasurer; Audrey Campbell, historian; Fritz Abplanalp, sergeant-at-arms.

A Hallowe'en frolic is being planned for this Saturday, complete with door prizes, and costumes are mandatory.

A.A.U.W. Takes Stand On November Election Proposals

At the general meeting of the American Association of University Women, held on October 18 at the Carmel High School cafeteria, it was unanimously decided that the organization would publicly endorse the Monterey School bond issue and that Glen T. Goodwill, superintendent of the Monterey Public Schools, would be notified as to the definite stand taken by the group.

Mrs. Mark Raggett, President, also informed the group that the State Legislative Committee of the A.A.U.W. recommends that the members oppose propositions 1, 6 and 10, and that they affirm proposition 3 on the ballots at the coming election in November.

Mrs. Raggett, who just returned from the Northern Regional Conference in Berkeley, said that the California branch of the A.A.U.W. is now the largest representative group in the country. Mrs. Talcott Bates, Mrs. John Gratiot and Miss Elizabeth Henry also attended the conference, and while there, Mrs. Gratiot was asked to address the members on the pros and cons of propositions 1, six and 10.

Twenty-one mensures outlined in a tentative legislative program for the national organization were carefully mimeographed by Mrs. Peter Ferrante and presented to all members present at the meeting for their consideration and balloting.

Dinner For Bestors

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton B. Neill last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. George Bestor were honored at a dinner-party. Close to 50 friends were there to extend congratulations and best wishes to the newlyweds. Mr. Bestor is Mr. Neill's partner in their engineering business.

Guests Honored

A buffet-supper was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thompson last Thursday, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Topping. The Thompsons have been the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Hutching for the past three weeks, and returned to their home in Washington, D. C., early this week.

AWVS Musicale

An entertaining evening sponsored by the American Women's Voluntary Service was given to GIs of Fort Ord last Sunday. It was held at the Pebble Beach home of Mrs. James Glaser. Artists for the evening of music were Miss Angie Machado, Miss Georgia Nicklett, and Mr. Robert Forbes, pianists. Mrs. Ruth Hill Cooke, contralto, accompanied by Mr. Noel Sullivan, sang a group of Scotch, Scandinavian and Indian folk songs. Miss Machado and Mr. Forbes played a two-piano group of compositions by Scarlatti, Rachmaninoff and Arensky.

Escapees To The Southland

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Childers are writing their friends here postcards from Desert Hot Springs, saying they are having a great time swimming and enjoying the warm weather. The Childers, one-time Carmelites, ("Charlie" is a former city councilman) are now Seaside residents.

Postal Employes Honored At Banquet

Because he considers the service, personalities and the organization as a whole superior to anything he has seen in his wide travels throughout the nation, Philip Arnold, resident here since February of this year, entertained the 29 employes of the Carmel post office, their wives and husbands, at a dinner held Wednesday night in the banquet room of Pine Inn.

Arnold, formerly from Cleveland, is a retired business executive. Mrs. Arnold assisted her husband at the gala affair, acting as hostess for the group. Before the dinner, cocktails were served in the banquet room.

KIPPY STUART

Kippy Stuart, The Pine Cone garden editor, has been asked by Norvell Gillespie, who conducts a garden program for KFRC, the Don Lee Broadcasting Company, to transcribe an interview with him for release at a later date. The interview will be transcribed Monday. Pine Cone readers will be notified as to the date of the final broadcast as soon as possible.

Joan Janda Married

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Janda announced the marriage of their daughter, Joan, to Mr. Januza Belza of Warsaw, Poland. The wedding took place in the beautiful chapel at the University of Fribourg, Switzerland, where the couple met and studied.

The bride wore a traditional white satin gown, with a full skirt, finger-tip sleeves and long train. She carried a white prayer book, with satin streamers and flowers adorning it. Her attendants were close friends from the University.

The reception was held at the Hotel de Fribourg following the nuptial mass. The couple will live in Fribourg, following their honeymoon-tour of Europe. Mrs. Belza was graduated from the Carmel High School, after which she attended Rosary College, in River Forest, Ill. She then went to Fribourg, where she majored in languages, and was graduated in June.

The groom served in the Polish army for several years during the war, and was taken prisoner in Germany. After the war, he entered the University of Fribourg, where he now has two more years before receiving his doctor's degree.

GALLERY BUILDING FUND DRIVE

The local artist groups, whose central focus is the Carmel Art Gallery, have expressed their deep appreciation for the gift of $750 from the Carmel Businessmen's Association, toward their fund to build the new fireproof gallery. The goal is $21,000.

The gallery, which upholds Carmel's artistic heritage, has long been a servant to community life, and invites those who have enjoyed its art shows and hospitality in the past to answer its present, urgent needs now.

The Time Has Come . .

Owing to a typographical slip in this column last week, Mrs. Stuart's instruction for pruning climbing roses read, "Climbing roses should be pruned back to five or six inches." The sentence should read, "Climbing roses should be pruned back about five canes." Fortunately, further advice was that the pruning was to be delayed until January, so possibility of city wide destruction of climbing roses during the past week is somewhat reduced. —Ed.

By Kippy Stuart

You'd be surprised to know how many known plants there are that will stand the ocean winds and ocean spindrift. Some shrubs will allow even the ocean wash to roll over their persons, bend to the wind, and then stand up straight and bloom. One of my favorite plants that will do just this, is a form of everlasting, or what is casually called the "straw flower." Statice perezzi should be in all gardens, and especially in those bleak ocean spots where rumor has it that nothing will bloom; Statice perezii will bloom.

Statice belongs to the Leadwort family, known generally as Thrift. Armeria is a closely allied plant to statice and both come by their stalwart habits by inter breeding with the common ocean buckweat. You see buckwheat blooming all along our coast. It is a small pink ball growing on stems about one foot high, and buckwheat is fragrant. If you happen to gather a handful of this wild buckwheat it will last for you for many months without shattering.

Statice perezii is that happy shade of true blue so coveted in all gardens. I have statice growing in the shade, in the full sun, where it is wet and where it is dry. In fact, this happy little plant will shower the garden with its tender blue and bring color where it is almost impossible to create color. The foliage of statice perezii is excellent for flower arrangements. The leaves are silver grey of sturdy texture and lend themselves to graceful handling.

What good is a lawn except for back-breaking clipping and just a nice velvet carpet to look at? Well, my lawn goes to work for me and becomes my laundry. For many years now, once or twice a year, I take out my smaller Oriental rugs, spread them on the grass and go to work. I hose the rugs on one side, turn them over and hose on the other side. I keep this up until all the house dust has been washed away and the colors look up at me fresh and pristine. I leave the rugs on the grass until all the drip is over, then I turn them on the other side. When I am sure that no wrinkles are evident, I then hang the rugs over the railing of my gallery, where the wind fans them dry. The rugs come in sweet and clean with never a wrinkle or ruffled edge.

Where the rugs have lain, for maybe two or three days, the grass is apt to turn a bit yellow, but much water on those yellow spots return the grass in a few days to its original condition. This may be the lazy man's method, but it works for me, and who cares whether he is lazy or not in this never-never-land?

Caution: I don't recommend this method of washing rugs unless the rugs are genuine Oriental; the domestic Oriental might kick up a fuss if treated in this manner, so don't take any chances. Be sure your rug is an old fellow, woven by hand, away over yonder in the Orient.

Have you gotten your ground prepared for bulbs? A good way to plant bulbs is to put them in pots, then bury the pots in the ground. When the dying-back period comes along, all you have to do, is to remove pots, lay them on their sides in the garage, and go your way. This method will cure the bulbs for you and spare the garden of that ugly period of ripening during the dye-back.

Charles O'Connor, known to Carmel from participation in recent Bach Festivals, will appear in a recital of Irish folksongs and ballads at the Carmel Art Gallery on the evening of November 3. Mr. O'Connor sings traditional music of his country with some songs in Gaelic and accompanies himself on the Irish harp. He has studied both in County Cork, South Ireland, and in London and is considered to have the finest reportoire of Irish folksongs outside of that country. The concert will begin at 8:15 o'clock and tickets may be obtained at the door.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"The way of the Lord is strength to the upright: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity." This verse from Proverbs (10:29) will be the Golden Text for the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon on "Everlasting Punishment" to be read this Sunday, October 29, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

Included among other citations from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, comprising the sermon, will be the following:

Psalm 103:2, 3: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all they diseases."

Science and Health: "It is easier for Christianity to cast out sickness than sin, for the sick are more willing to part with pain than are sinners to give up the sinful, so-called pleasures of the senses. The Christian can prove this to-day as readily as it was proved centuries ago" (p. 138).

Missionary Society Disbands As Group; New Plans Made

The Carmel Missionary Society, after 45 years of meeting regularly, has disbanded as a separate organization. Interdenominational, it has devoted its efforts chiefly to helping religious groups on the Monterey Peninsula; Filipinos in early times, Japanese, Italians, and recently the struggling Negro churches. Two chairmen, one from All Saint's and from the Church of the Wayfarer, have directed its activities, with monthly meetings until recent years, when they met quarterly. As the two churches have each a missionary program, the group decided to make a change.

Last week the first meeting under the new plan was held at the Church of the Wayfarer, a missionary tea, with the women of All Saints' Church as guests. More than 100 were in attendance, to hear a report by Rev. Myron Herrell of Hayward on the condition in the European nations five years after World War II. Mrs. Leo F. Miller, president of the hostess society, conducted the meeting. Piano solos were given by Miss Dorothy Hutchings, including works by Robert Schumann, Bach, and Debussy. These teas will be held in fall and spring, given in turn by the women of the two churches.

Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Burrill and Mrs. K. Fillmore Gray, assisted by Mrs. Guy L. Kell and Mrs. Walter Kreisler as chairmen of arrangements. Serving at the tea table were Mrs. Fenton Grigsby and Mrs. Clarence Postelwaite. Others on the committee were Mrs. Alex Bolm, Mrs. Burrill, Mrs. Harry Cantalow, Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Philip Livingston, and Mrs. C. W. Robinson.

Margaret Porter Dies In S. F.

Services were held Monday in San Francisco for Margaret James Porter, civic leader and frequent Carmel visitor, who had many friends here. She was the wife of Bruce Porter, California artist, and the daughter of the late William James, Harvard professor of philosophy. Her uncle was the late Henry James, celebrated novelist and playwright.

Mrs. Porter had owned property in the Big Sur region and had spent a great deal of time both there and in Carmel.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two children, Robert Bruce Porter and Catherine Porter Short.

BOX C-1

Carmel, California,
October 22, 1950.

Letter to the Editor of Pine Cone,
Dear Wilma,

Carmel is cheering all over the place at our good luck in possessing a Mayor who is not only gifted with diplomacy, but also gifted with common sense.

Allen Knight's reply to the poor gentleman from Oakland, who deplores the deficiencies of Carmel for this and that, deserves to be framed in every house in Carmel.

And . . . what's all this nonsense about benches and the lack of benches? Where in any other village or city can the "tired business man" walk along a main street and find not only benches, but artistic benches tucked away in the landscaped strip down Ocean Ave., and benches along Scenic Drive? Benches to the right of you, benches to the left of you . . .

At any time of the day you can drive along Scenic drive and see dreamers sitting on artistic benches gazing out at the ocean. I know of several persons who make ritual of sun-down gazing from many benches along our ocean front.

I see that I have "benched" myself to death in this letter, which is not my purpose. What I want to say is three cheers for a Carmel Mayor who views our Village as HOME territory, and not as a tourist center. Just the same, WELCOME tourists, that is, if you take us as we are and intend to remain.

Sincerely,
Kippy Stuart.

Meeting Tomorrow For Discussion On Arts' Ball

A meeting will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at the Carmel Art Association for the purpose of making plans for the coming arts' ball, The Feast of Kulkulkan, which will be held at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club on November 25.

Members of the executive committee are Dan Totheroh, Bruce Ariss, S. F. B. Morse, Jane Parker, Given Graham, Mary Staley, with Patricia Cunningham as general chairman.

The theme of the ball is to be pre-Columbian, the period in Mexico and Central America before 1492. All costumes and decor must conform to this theme.

More workers are needed on the committees. Costumes, decorations and staging effects will be discussed at tomorrow's meeting.

THERE'S a change of the year for your Buick, too, stalwart as it is! Hot summer driving has taken its toll—in played-out lubricants, spark timing that may have slipped off a notch or two over the many miles, a carburetor that would probably give you better mileage and snap if it were properly adjusted now for fall driving.

Point is—your Buick will feel a lot friskier in the trying days to come if you let your Buick dealer get those summer kinks out of its system now! Just drive in—say you want (1) a fall tune-up and (2) a regular Lubricare—and see how much rewarded you are, for a small fee!

Do it this week, will you? Before the rush, you can be served more promptly.
